

Denise is a Business Teacher at Farmington Central High School, and she has been in education for 20 years. Her view on Alternative Education is that it is about building relationships with students so they can see the importance of working as a team. This not only helps them grow as a student, but helps others grown around them. Thus, allowing the students to grow inside the classroom with academics and learning the importance of it. She is participating in MAEO because she feels that sharing about systems we have in place in different schools and to understand what is working or not really helps in the success of students everywhere.
